

Lonesome Surprise

INTRO: A/D A/D A/D/E/A

A D

Am I supposed to treat you like a stranger?

A
F#m

Am I supposed to forget everything we shared?

Bm

D

In a place where every move I make means danger

Bm C#m Bm

E

I can't forget and the only thing I know is I cared

A D

I walk the streets and everything reminds me

A F#m

Of the times you so readily deny

Bm D

My friends say to put it all behind me

Bm C#m Bm E

But I can't no matter how hard I try

CHO: D A
A/C#m/F#m

You're sittin' in the window

F#m Bm

Starin' at the sky

D Bm

I'm drinkin' on the sidewalk

D F#m

With your lonesome surprise

I'm confused, I've got too many questions Did it mean nothing all the talks we had?
There's no answer that leaves my mind restin'

How could somethin' so good end up so bad?

I can't believe that any of this happened
It's like I'm playin' someone else's part In a movie I found myself trapped in I read my lines while you destroyed my heart

I saw you on the corner
I turned to dry my eyes
You were singin' a new song
It was your lonesome surprise

I know you're hidin' behind all your reasons
I know you can't let me see your pain
Once you gave me something to believe in Once you gave me a reason to live again

The streets are dead and the bars are closin'

The tears are waiting, they're ready to explode

I don't know why you took the path you've chosen

I don't know why your face seems so foreign and cold

I passed you in the hallway

I stopped to search your eyes
But they didn't solve the mystery
Of your lonesome surprise
